In consideration for a position on the FIPS-MOUCHE Technical Committee:

Glade is an active competitive angler and has been organizing competitive events for nearly 20 years. Over the last 10 years he has been the primary technical expert and rule maker for USA competitive angling organizations with the goal to promote fairness and technical excellence in angling. If selected to serve on the technical committee he would work with other committee members to promote fairness in rule making and implementation based on his experiences in competitive angling and rule making responsibilities.
